RAILROADS SEEK SEPARATE PEACE WITH STRIKERS

Rail Developments Take New Turn Saturday; Hooper at Work.

CANADA FACES TIE-UP

Gompers Urges Miners and Shopmen to Speed Up Negotiations.

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO, July 22.—As the railroad strike today entered its fourth week, negotiations for peace took a new turn and expectant eyes were turned to Washington where Chairman Hooper of the railroad labor board was called for conference with President Harding, and to the efforts of six leading roads to make separate peace with their striking shopmen.

A conference between W. L. McMenimen of the railway labor board and Secretary of Labor Davis at Mooseheart, Indiana, is also regarded as possible producer of peaceful settlement.

Reports from half a dozen cities that approximately 18,000 clerks and other railway employees had voted a walkout and new indications that Canada is facing a shopmen's strike added to the weight of President Harding's statement that any railroad that refuses to meet a committee of maintenance of way men to adjust wage differences will face a strike of these workmen.

A new note was made effective in the statement of Samuel Gompers, president of the American federation of labor, urging coal miners and shopmen and their respective employers to begin direct negotiations coupled with the action of representatives of the "Big Four" railroad brotherhoods in urging congress to facilitate a return to direct parley system. From New Orleans came reports of verbal attacks upon the railroad labor board by union leaders.

300 Trains Cut Off

Meanwhile eight railroads issued annulling orders for branch line trains, bringing the number of annulments well over 300. State troops continued on guard in eight states while additional guards were placed in various cities. The most notable instance was Fremont, Nebraska, where more than 100 of the citizens business men and professional men, were deputized as peace officers and as a first act escorted into town 11 non-union employees of the Chicago and Northwestern railway who are said to have been driven out of town.

Hooper Reaches Capital

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Chairman Ben W. Hooper of the railroad labor board arrived here today in response to a summons from the white house, went into conference with president Harding prepared to give the government executive a complete survey of the railroad strike situation and recent negotiations conducted with a view to bringing about a settlement.

Hurries to White House

WASHINGTON, July 22.—The labor chairman went to the White House soon after his arrival here from Chicago and the president's engagements for today were arranged so as to allow him an immediate audience of as great length as the conference might desire.

Comment on the strike situation was withheld by the chairman prior to his conference with the president but indicated that he might have a statement to make after seeing the president.

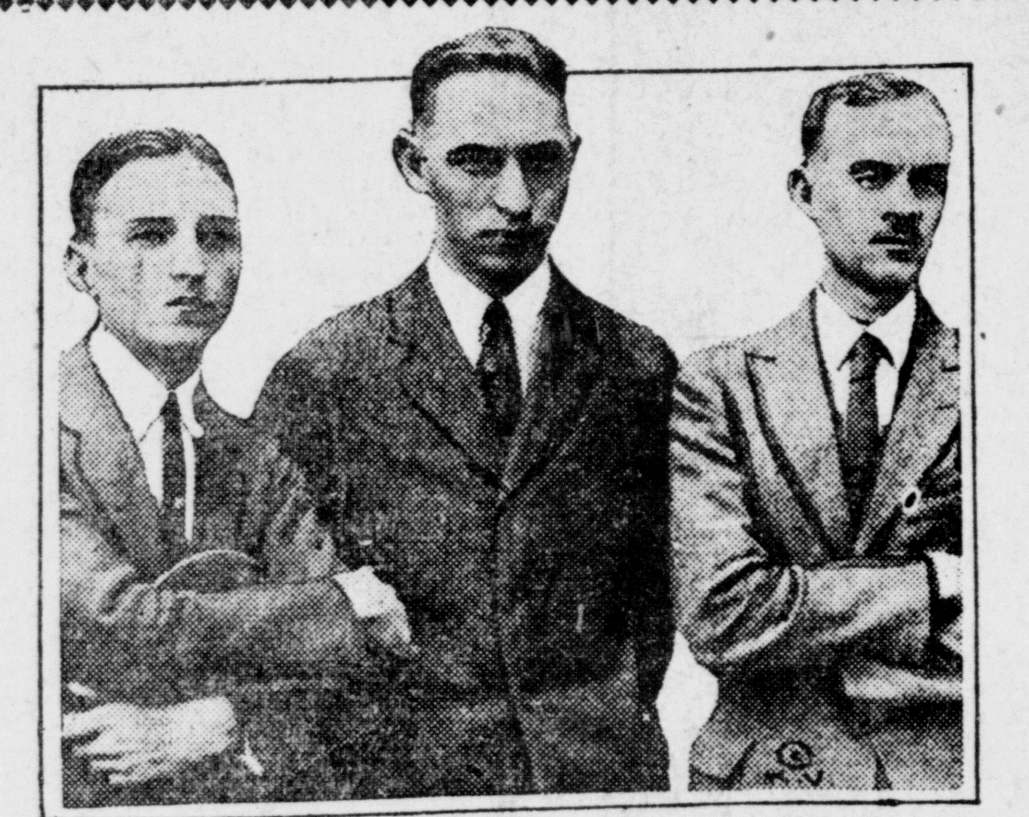

Almost coincident with Mr. Hooper's arrival, the American Federation of labor made public telegrams sent by union leaders of the striking railroad and John L. Lewis, president of the united mine workers, pledging sympathy and cooperation in the respective strikes of the railroad shopmen and the coal miners. The telegram was signed by Samuel Gompers, president of the American federation of labor, as chief of the legislative representatives conferring here.

Public Favors Strikers

Reports made to the conference from various sections of the country indicate rising public sympathy in favor of the men who are striking "for right and justice."

Rail Board Chairman Says He Cannot Discuss His Talk With Harding.

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, July 22.—Chairman Hooper of the labor board presented to President Harding in a 4 hour conference today the details of the rail strike situation, reporting on the controversy between the union workers and the executives from the inception of the strike to the present time.

On leaving the white house after the conference, the labor board chairman told newspaper men that "naturally I do not feel at liberty to discuss details of the conference," and declined to state whether the president had in mind any future conferences or give any inkling as to what the administration program might be. He did say, however, that he was returning to Chicago, leaving here at six o'clock this evening.

The president, after Mr. Hooper had left the white house, went into conference with Senators Underwood of Alabama, and Pomeroy of Ohio, democratic members of the interstate commerce committee. Earlier in the day and during the conference with Chairman Hooper, Senators Cummings of Iowa, Watson of Indiana and Kellogg of Minnesota, republican members of the same committee, who conferred here last Thursday night with leading railway executives of the east, had been called to the white house.

U. S. CENTERING THOUGHTS UPON COAL SHORTAGES

WASHINGTON, July 22.—The federal government concentrated its activities in the coal strike situation today in devising means for distributing to the best advantage the nation's dwindling coal supply and adding to it in every possible way.

Indications are that steps along this line will continue during the ten days or two weeks period which the government decided upon as a test of the efforts of the operators to produce coal in accordance with President Harding's invitation.

Two departments of the government, the commerce and justice departments, are working on a plan for coal distribution through a central committee sitting in Washington and acting through local boards located in the coal centers. Today the plan is before the committee on justice for deciding its legal aspect and Attorney General Daugherty met with the whole body of assistants so as to speed up the opinion as much as possible. It is doubtful whether the opinion will be formulated today.

LOCAL PREACHER IS ATTACKED BY STEEDMAN BAND

Bob Allison Under Arrest For Alleged Assault on Rev. Brothers.

BYSTANDER CLUBBED

Deputy Sheriff Shoots the Horse of Raider To Effect Arrest.

Rev. R. E. Brothers, pastor of the Asbury Methodist church here, and who is now conducting a revival meeting at Steedman, barely missed serious injury and Rev. J. A. Williams, a Baptist minister and an attendant at the meeting, was assaulted as the result of an attack made on the meeting Friday night by two men in an apparent effort to disrupt the revival, according to information brought in this morning by Sheriff Bob Duncan.

Bob Allison, one of the alleged raiders, is under arrest with county state and federal charges pending. His brother-in-law, who is alleged to have assisted him in the disturbance, has not been arrested.

Allison, according to a story related early Friday by Deputy Sheriff L. M. Hilton of the labor board presented to President Harding in a 4 hour conference today the details of the rail strike situation, reporting on the controversy between the union workers and the executives from the inception of the strike to the present time.

Secures Own Horse

Later he procured his own horse, according to Hilton, and while riding madly down the street with a rock in his hand, ran into R. C. Isaacs who was on horse back. Hilton is said to have attacked the man with the rock and then to have proceeded to the postoffice where he kicked on the door and threatened to kill the postmaster.

When Deputy Hilton escaped from the arms of his captor at the meeting, he started in pursuit of Allison, he said. Soon the latter dashed down the street on horseback and when he refused to stop, Hilton fired, injuring the horse. The deputy then overtook and arrested Allison.

Neither of the ministers was reported much injured and the meeting is said to have continued after the disturbance.

Sheriff Bob Duncan said today that it was possible that federal charges also would be filed against Allison for disturbing government property.

Friendship Ties Broken

So Governor Allen Prepares To Put His Old Companion, William Allen White, in Jail

TOPEKA, Kas., July 22.—The arrest of William Allen White, Emporia editor, for displaying a poster sympathizing with the striking railroad shopmen will probably be made today, it was announced by Governor Allen this morning.

The announcement followed a personal report to Governor Allen made by Judge J. A. McDermott, of the industrial court, on his pilgrimage to Emporia late yesterday, and failed to persuade Mr. White to remove the poster from newspaper office window. The test to determine whether the display of posters is a violation of the Kansas Industrial Court act will follow Mr. White's arrest, but meanwhile, the governor states "that strike cards will have to come down from every window in Kansas."

Clarita Woman Makes Bond Friday in Connection With Shooting.

Mrs. Stella Bullied of Clarita made bond for $2,500 Friday afternoon before Justice of the Peace H. J. Brown on a charge of assault with intent to kill in connection with the shooting of her sister, Mrs. Bessie Aycock, early Sunday afternoon, July 15, at the home of their brother, Tom Phares, near Lula.

Preliminary examination was scheduled to be held today before Justice Brown but was expected to be continued because of the fact that no witnesses had been subpoenaed.

According to a story told by Phares, Mrs. Bullied attempted to settle an old grudge against her sister with a revolver. She shot Mrs. Aycock once in the right breast, he said, and was on the verge of firing again when he grabbed the hand in which she held the smoking gun.

Since Sunday, Mrs. Bullied has been held without bond pending definite word from physicians as to whether the wounded woman would recover. Doctors now believe her out of danger.

Engineer Ring, residence not ascertained, on train number 9, was killed in the wreck, according to the first official report of the accident which reached the Frisco general offices here this morning. The report stated that the wreck was caused by number 9's failure to take the sidetrack at Logan.

Passenger train number two had arrived at Logan at 3:43 and had stopped on the main line when number 9, failing to take the siding, crashed into it.

The bodies have not been recovered from the wreckage as yet, according to the official report, but several were buried beneath the debris. A wrecking crew from Springfield is on its way to the scene of the accident. Relief parties are also being sent from adjoining points to aid passengers.

A special train carrying P. A. Hamilton, a vice-president of the Frisco, and H. L. Worman, superintendent of motive power, left for Logan soon after the report of the wreck was received here.

There is no telegraph office or long distance telephone exchange at Logan and news of the accident is obtained with great difficulty.

The injured will be brought to the Frisco hospital here for treatment. The list of casualties was not available at nine o'clock.

BIBLE THOUGHT OF TODAY

CURSE OR BLESSING, WHICH?—He that withholdeth corn the people shall curse him; but blessing shall be upon the head of him that selleth it.—Proverbs 11:26.

RUSSIA CLINGS TO SPOILS

It now develops that the Russian delegates to The Hague conference were trying to play a smooth confidence game. In return for foreign loans the soviet government offered all manner of concessions in the matter of manufacturing and in developing natural resources, but when this was looked into it was found that many of these same concessions had been granted to foreigners under the rule of the czars and had been confiscated by the soviet government. Naturally it was demanded that the rightful owners have their property restored or else be reimbursed for their losses. When the Russians would give no guaranty of this the parley naturally broke up. The soviet put into practice the theory of wholesale confiscation preached for years by the radicals of our own country and now has a lot of property that is junk in its hands but would be valuable under private management. The state was to be everything and the individual nothing, but this is not human nature and human nature cannot be made over by a government decree. The first law on the catalogue is that the individual must do some hustling himself.

THE YOUNG MAN IN POLITICS

A political life under modern conditions is not especially attractive to many of our ablest men, men who are best qualified to render the best possible service to the public. While we have no political ambitions, we have no word of discouragement for the conscientious and able young man who chooses to follow such a career. It will be a sad day in our country's history if the public trusts are to go to the unscrupulous element of society by default. The tendency of the public to quickly forget good service and turn off after some blatant demagogue who attacks the good name of any one who crosses his path is very discouraging to the young man of high ideals who wishes to be of real service to the public and often turns him away from a career that might be of untold benefit to his country.

It is only little more than a month now until the township and county fairs are held and there is every reason to believe that these will surpass all previous ones. The premium list covers a wide range and with conditions favorable this year the exhibits ought to show up remarkably well. Pontotoc county produces just about everything that grows and it takes these fairs to show the public just what can be done here and what is being done.

Charles W. Bryan has apparently won the Democratic nomination for governor of Nebraska. It is said that he has never liked being referred to as merely a brother of William J. The latter has made some footsteps on the political sands in his time and now Charles has an idea of making some on his own account and will show the world that he has other claims on its notice than just happening to be the brother of the former Democratic leader.

If, as an exchange suggests, the patrons of bootleggers be made equally as guilty as the ones from whom they buy their booze, and intoxication be made prima facie evidence of such guilt the prohibition law would have teeth in it sure enough. However, it is not likely that any such legislation will be enacted, for some of the legislators might be among the first to face the jail.

The Holdenville Tribune states that forty farmers are selling milk and cream to shippers or else shipping it themselves. A year ago only eleven were engaged in this business. These sales, according to the Tribune, amount to about $3,000 per month. This industry has had a wonderful growth in this part of Oklahoma during the past year and it has only just begun.

When it comes to being an optimist, you can't beat the Durant Democrat. It bids the suffering householder to cheer up for it is confident that before another summer rolls around lawn mowers will be run by radio instead of the present sweat raising system of pushing.

The Spiro Times suggests that after the primary "crow suppers" will be the order of the day, especially among the defeated candidates and newspapers that have indulged in vilification of the successful candidates during the primary.

No community has ever succeeded in getting rid of the grouch who never has a constructive idea of his own but who never sees good in the ideas of others. The best that can be done is to hold him down and keep his poison from spreading.

Wilson Answers Traducers (Chickasha Express)

R. H. Wilson, Grady county's candidate for governor, has answered his critics who have attempted to connect him with the fraudulent sale of teachers' certificates and has done so in a way that should silence them. Mr. Kerr, one of the managers of Judge Owen's campaign, has issued a statement denying that the latter was in any way responsible for this attack on Wilson but Mr. Wilson declares that friends of Owen are seeking to make political capital out of the certificate scandal. Wilson's reply to his critics, in the form of a statement addressed to the democrats of Oklahoma, is as follows:

"One of the deplorable developments of the primary campaign is the effort of Judge Owen's friends to make political capital out of the fact that at least two spurious teachers' certificates have been issued and sold."

"It will be recalled that on July 4th, under my direction, a confession was procured from the man who sold the certificates and the resignation of the secretary of the state board of education, who issued the certificates, was delivered to me."

"I immediately addressed communications to the governor and the attorney general, accompanied by the evidence I had procured, and requested the fullest investigation and most vigorous prosecution of any and all persons guilty of illegal traffic in teachers' certificates. In this matter I did what I pledged in my platform I would do in all cases of graft, if I was elected governor. I exposed graft and demanded prosecution of the guilty parties."

"Certain satellites of Judge Owen are insinuating that I have had some connection with the issuance and sale of spurious teachers' certificates. They know these insinuations are false in every particular and I here and now denounce as utterly false every insinuation that I had any knowledge of the issuance of spurious teachers' certificates before the exposure above referred to or that I, in any way, have participated in the sale or disposition of same."

"I commission my friends throughout the state in my name to denounce as infamously false any insinuation that I, in any way, have been connected with the issuance or sale of spurious teachers' certificates."

How Much Like Robertson. (McAlester News-Capital)
Pittsburgh county has had its great political fling.
It has had an entire day of Jack Walton in its midst, for Jack "looped the loop" within our borders yesterday, carrying with him a theatrical party that staged vaudeville at each stop. The caravan rode automobiles that were surprisingly like automobiles that are owned in Oklahoma City, the burg Walton is mayor of.

The music was fine, for Dinty Moore's orchestra is O.K. and if we had our way every one of the boys would be given an equal chance to be governor, but alas—that privilege is reserved.

Not even Paul Nesbitt, campaign manager is in on that, he gets to render a duty and denounce "German Propaganda," solve the Irish problem, and outline the plans of the great Walton Deodorizing plant, that would be built near the capital building for the sole use of deodorizing the state press.

Perhaps there would be a dry cleaning department in connection. If so, this may be devoted largely to the handling of "22,000 percent men" so frequently mentioned in Walton's talks throughout Pittsburg county. Somehow or other Walton seems to think many folks unfriendly to him, and perhaps this feeling was furthered by the listlessness of his vast audience last night.

The crowd, fully as large as that which heard Governor Robertson speak here recently, was very cold and unresponsive except in its reception of the jazz music by the orchestra.

Like Robertson, whose gubernatorial shoes Walton wants to try on, the candidate laid bare his dislike of newspapers of today. It is a threadbare harangue that has been sung principally by socialists heretofore, but Walton and Robertson have learned the words. Such criticism is natural when a candidate cannot get a newspaper to swallow all the lies he stands for. In this respect Walton is so much like Robertson that the future forecasts a possible eclipse of the worthy occupant now serving the state.

Where this likeness ends, no one knows, for current information is that Robertson, after Sphinx-like silence as to preference of his successor for many weeks, has finally thrown his influence into the Walton camp. Robertson's support may be an ill omen, in view of the fact that during a former coal miners' strike Pittsburg county was bulldozed and buffeted by soldiers sent here by Robertson.

Will Walton be a second Robertson?

These two men are so much alike.

Modern Salesmanship.

(Pawhuska Capital)

There was a curious contrast between the attitude of the old-time merchant in the matter of salesmanship, between the persistence he showed inside his store and the lack of effort to interest the public that did not enter his place.

Old fashioned merchants were tenacious creatures when they got you into their clutches. Many of them would follow a reluctant customer to the door, trying to win him back by some last appeal or special offer. Their clerks would urge customers to buy and show temper if they did not.

But outside the store, the old timer was inactive. He did relatively little advertising, and made little effort to persuade the public that he had good stuff, that he was enterprising in securing good values and offering low prices. Thus the old timer was unprogressive on both ends of the game. He made little effort to induce people to visit his store, and when he got them there, he worried and irritated them by insistence that they should buy.

The modern merchant has learned better in both respects. When he gets people into his store, he instructs his clerks to go the limit in courtesy, and never show irritation if a customer does not buy. He wants people to be perfectly free to come in and look without buying, realizing that if they have that feeling, they will come frequently and will be apt to purchase.

Thus his persistence comes in his advance publicity work. He carries on a campaign through good newspapers, showing how his active reaching out for business produces a big volume of trade that enables him to sell at low prices. He describes the opportunities as they come along gives a clear idea of styles and market conditions, and creates a predisposition on the part of the public to desire his goods. Thus he is assured that the crowd will come, and he does not have to use pressure to induce people to purchase.

American Provision Cited for Example For Great Britain

(By the Associated Press)

LONDON.—As a "nation of shopkeepers" Britain perceives that she stands in need of increasing greatly her business with the world generally. Many men have maintained she could best learn how to do this from America, and not a few are arguing that she can become as prosperous as America only by adopting the American fiscal policy of protection.

But this is not the view held by the Right Honorable L. C. M. S. Amery, M. P., parliamentary secretary to the Admiralty. He believes much can be learned from America, but that the great lesson is not protection.

"The most marvelous economic phenomena of the last century is the growth of the United States," writes Mr. Amery. "From a handful of colonists on the Atlantic seaboard they have grown into a hundred millions of the most prosperous people in the world. They have achieved this amazing result by concentrating on one great purpose; the development of the resources of their great territory. It is development they have always kept in view, not knowing that trade as an end in itself does not necessarily mean development and prosperity, but that development inevitably brings both prosperity and trade."

"The resources of the British Empire are many times greater than those of the United States. If only we can concentrate upon that development in the same spirit we shall see in the next generation a growth no less amazing than theirs, and one that would bring a wholly new and incalculable expansion of outward trade and internal development to the country."

Busy Public Official Says Theodor's Black-Draught Helps Him Keep Physically Fit.

Clay City, Ky.—"I have been in business here for twenty-one years; am also coroner, riding the Kentucky hills and hollows in all kinds of weather and under all kinds of conditions," says Mr. Sam T. Carr, of this place. "To be able to do so, I must keep physically fit, and Theodor's Black-Draught is my standby."

"These trips used to give me headaches, and that, I found, came from hurried meals or from constipation."

"I was convinced that Black-Draught was good, so now I use it, and it gives perfect satisfaction. It acts on the liver, relieves indigestion, and certainly is splendid. I am never without it."

When you have a feeling of discomfort after meals, causing a bloating sensation, headache, bad breath, and similar common symptoms, try taking a pinch of Black-Draught after meals—a pinch of the dry powder, washed down with a swallow of water. This has been found to assist the stomach and liver to carry on their normal work, and helps prevent, or relieve, constipation.

Your druggist can supply you with this well-known, purely-vegetable liver medicine. Insist upon Theodor's, the original and only genuine Black-Draught liver medicine. NC-137a

NELLIE REVELL

ACTRESS, FEATURE WRITER,
POETESS, AND LITERARY CRITIC

I had an interesting experience the other evening as I was listening in on the radio at my home. A lady was speaking from the WJZ broadcasting station in Newark, N. J., and I heard her tell a story filled with pathos of the suffering of Nellie Revell, widely known in the theatrical world as a newspaper writer, who had been flat on her back in a New York hospital for more than two years with a terrible spinal disease, lying for months in a solid plaster cast which she humorously described as her "Paris gown made by the Fuller Construction Company."

In spite of it all Nellie Revell was the most cheerful and radiantly optimistic person the speaker had ever met. As the lecturer closed I heard her say that when the invalid was asked what message she wished to send to her friends over the radio, she replied, "Tell my radio audience that the two best investments I have ever made are, first, the friendships I have acquired, and second, life insurance."

On reaching my office the next morning I found that sure enough Nellie Revell was insured in the New York Life. She applied and received a policy in September, 1915, having no other insurance. She became totally disabled in the Spring of 1919. Premium due September 12, 1921, was not paid and under its terms the policy lapsed. The Company received no notice and no claim for disability from the insured until after the expiration of the grace of the September, 1921, premium. In the latter part of the following month information came to the Company that the insured was and had been since the Spring of 1919 totally and presumably permanently disabled.

The agent who wrote the application obtained and filed proof of disability and the Company immediately refunded the premiums paid in 1919 and 1920, waived payment of the 1921 premium, paid the first disability installment that had been due in 1920 had claim and proof been submitted when disability occurred, and also paid the second installment that would have been due under the conditions stated in 1921.

The patient is still receiving disability payments and will continue to do so until the full face of the policy is exhausted, without further payment of premium. The later and more modern policies, as agents know, provide for disability payments for life should the incapacity last that long, and without lessening the policy face.

Is it any wonder that Nellie Revell should have sent out that message to her radio audience?

In a note from her, answering an inquiry for permission to broadcast more widely through the Bulletin the interesting facts connected with her insurance history, she replies as follows:

"Anything that will awaken people to the advantages derived from insurance I cheerfully subscribe to. I regard it as the next best investment in the world. Friendship is the best."

The New York Life makes a specialty of insurance for women. An investment in which there is no hazard.

LEAN OR FAT CROP
MAY BE FORECASTAgriculture Reaches High
Scientific Level Says
Statistician.

(By the Associated Press)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—The lean and fat years in agriculture can now be prophesied with a greater degree of accuracy, according to A. J. Surratt, agricultural statistician for Illinois under the Federal Bureau of Crop Estimates.

The consolidation recently of the Bureau of Markets and Crop Estimates and the Office of Farm Management and Farm Economics into United States bureau of agricultural economics draws attention to a crop reporting system of the United States that has been developing since long prior to the Civil War.

Of the bureau consolidated, the oldest is the Bureau of Crop estimates. The government began collecting crop reports as early as 1839 but it was not until 1865 that an appropriation was made for a separate department to do this work. In that year $20,000 was set aside to gather crop estimates from as much of the country as could be covered.

The activity of estimating the crops of the country is simply giving to the business of farming a record of its past performances and knowledge of its present conditions in order that it may have some foundation on which to base its present activities, declared Mr. Surratt.

Records are Necessary

"The great business of agriculture cannot be conducted without records and information of growing crops," said Mr. Surratt in a statement on the work of his bureau. "Farmers need to know the crop conditions, to decide whether to sell from the field or to hold for later sale, and what changes to make in their plantings; railroads need it to arrange a proper distribution of cars to handle the crops; dealers in limit stocks of goods to meet probable demands; manufacturers in order to regulate the production and distribution of their products and banking interests in order to determine the local needs of loans and credits."

"Dependable knowledge of stocks on hand and of crop prospects make for a stable market. When it indicates that prices are too low, local dealers and others invest freely for future needs, and producers who are able to hold do so, thus sustaining the price and benefiting the farmer who is compelled to sell, particularly at harvest time. Conversely when positive data on crops shows speculative prices higher than justified by the actual situation, wise farmers sell more freely and the number of buyers decreases. Thus in either case such knowledge tends to stabilize the market which is to the benefit of all legitimate interest, and most of all to the farmer and consumer."

An Old Practice

"The practice of recording agricultural statistics is very old, dating back to ancient history when rulers recognized the fact that the food supply of the nation was of such vital importance that the government owed the obligation to its people to make sure that the home food supply was ample before allowing any to leave the country, and if there was a surplus to let other countries know about it and thereby open up a market for their farmers in the far years. Since that time every country of the old world has developed various forms of collecting agricultural statistics. The information was usually taken by the tax collectors or in a census every five or ten years."

"The United States collects its agricultural statistics by means of field agents. Each of the states has a field agent, except the smallest states, where one agent may have charge of two states. These collect from volunteer reporters throughout the state, from farmers, merchants, business houses and railroads, figures on the crops. These scattering reports are combined, averaged, tabulated and digested, and from them the field agent first makes a county average, that is he estimates what the average for each crop will be in each county."

"All this information is then sent to the Bureau of Crop Estimates at Washington. It is very necessary that these reports going to Washington be kept secret, in order that the information contained may not leak out prematurely thus permitting some one to speculate on the information thus obtained."

"The field agent's report is forwarded to Washington in especially prepared envelopes. These envelopes are delivered direct to the Washington postoffice in sealed pouches. They are kept safe in this office until they are delivered by him to the chairman of the Crop Reporting Board."

"This board is locked in a room, which has no telephone communication with the outside, and the windows of which are high above a man's head. These precautions are taken to prevent any hint of the crop report leaking out. The work stays in the room until the board of getting up the estimates on crops for the entire country is completed. The report of the board is released simultaneously to press associations and newspapers."

President Linscheid reports that students are closing up their work for the summer term. They are checking up credentials to determine if they have sufficient for county or state certificates. About 75 per cent of the students are applying for these certificates.

Dr. Linscheid says everything indicates that this fall's enrollment in the College will show an increase over that of last fall, although it is now impossible to forecast the enrollment definitely.

Former President, W. A. Briles, was a visitor to the College Thursday.

Virgil Durham, county superintendent of Hughes County, was at the College yesterday to see his teachers for the coming year.

Several extension classes are planned for the month of August. These students of Ada and other parts of the district will be able to do work outside of the regular session. Such classes may be organized during August at Holdenville and other points in the district. President Linscheid states that this is a distinctly new thing.

The extension classes will be under, A. L. Peatem, who will be assisted by R. E. Robinson, T. C. McCormick, Miss Keller and possible others.

Sisler Looks on Ty Cobb as His Most Dangerous Rival

GEORGIA MAN GROWS OLD IN EXPERIENCE BUT RETAINS VIGOR

St. Louis Slugger Eyeing Southerner As Power Behind the Stick.

CHICAGO, July 22.—Perhaps Ty Cobb is convinced, in his own mind, that he is "skewing" after seventeen years as a star in the American League, but George Sisler, the marvel player with St. Louis whose batting honors Cobb is threatening today, is positive the "Georgia Peach" will be his most dangerous rival for the 1922 batting championship.

The race between Cobb and Sisler today is narrowed down to a difference of only eleven points, with Sisler setting the pace with an average of .416, a drop of four points within a week. Cobb, continuing his batting rampage, smashed out nine hits in his last five games, bringing his average to .405, while the best Sisler could do was four in as many games.

Sisler, however, is showing his worth in base stealing and scoring, having registered seventy-nine times and stolen thirty-four bases, the best stealing performance in the major leagues.

Hornby Leads Walker

Clarence "Tillie" Walker, the sugging outfielders with Philadelphia is having a hard time catching Rogers Hornby, the National League home run leader. Just when Tillie poles a circuit drive, Hornby bags one for himself. Tillie smashed out two in one game and ran his string up to twenty-three, which gave him a lead of two ahead of Ken Williams, of St. Louis. Harry Heilmann of Detroit has sixteen poled and Babe Ruth has fifteen.

A recruit and a veteran are giving national Leaguers something to talk about this week. The recruit is Lawrence "Hack" Miller, the Pacific Coast slugger with Chicago and the veteran is Jake Daubert, first baseman with Cincinnati. They have been wielding the hickory with telling effect, each cracking out a dozen hits in their last seven games. Daubert's hitting included two doubles and a home run, while Miller bagged four circuit drives and two doubles.

The Cincinnati veteran brought his average from .355 up to .373 and is the runner-up to Rogers Hornby, the St. Louis star, who tops the list with a mark of .397. Miller added ten points to his average and moved up among the select ten, his percentage being .350.

Eye Explains Superiority

Hornby's keen eye and hitting prowess keep him out in front among the major league home run clouters, with a string of twenty-five for the season.

Max Carey, the speedy outfielder of the Pirates, in addition to showing the way to the base stealers with 24 thefts, is out in front as a run getter having registered 76 times.

Eddie Brown, star outfielder with Indianapolis, by pounding out thirteen hits in his last six games, deposed Jay Kirke of Louisville as the batting leader of the American Association, according to averages today which include games of Wednesday.

Brown is leading the race with a mark of .378, with Kirke second with .374. Myatt of Milwaukee is resting third place with .372. "Red" Russell, the outfielder Minneapolis sold to Pittsburgh, is going back to the major leagues with a fat average. In seventy seven games, he has made eighty-one hits, including seventeen homers, for an average of .331.

Brief Heavy Hitter

The home run hitters are trailing Bunny Brief of Kansas City, who is setting the pace with twenty-two. Matthews of Milwaukee jumped ahead of Baird of Indianapolis in the scramble for base stealing honors, going into the lead with nineteen. Baird has stolen sixteen.

With an average of .344 Schulte of Mobile is back in the lead for batting glory of the Southern Association with Lapan of Little Rock pressing him with an average .343. Tucker of New Orleans, the leader a week ago, is third with .342. The figures include games of Tuesday.

The home run hitters are not endangering Babe Ruth's honors. Connolly of Little Rock, with his clusters of eight is the leader in circuit smashers, with Williams and Niehoff of Mobile and Barrett of Little Rock, tied for second place with seven apiece.

Silva of Birmingham, by stealing a pair of bases, increased his total of twenty-nine. Henry of New Orleans and Stewart of Birmingham are running second with twenty-six.

They Help Browns to Approach Top

Lee Fohl's superb handling of his pitchers, old and young, and the brilliant infelding of McManus at second, are two of the high spots in the spectacular race the St. Louis Browns continue to run. Urban Shocker is a veteran of many campaigns. Bayne is an experienced hurler though still young. McManus, in a brief season, has made a bid for far at second. Van Gilder's a youngster.

Mannish Crowds Fisher

Manush of Omaha is climbing closer to Fisher of St. Joseph in the race for the Western League batting honors, the averages today showing Fisher on top with .395, with Manush twelve points behind him. Metz of Sioux City is third with .371. The figures include games of Tuesday.

Eugene Elsh, the Sioux City star for whose services the White Sox and Pirates are fighting, is fourth in the list with an average of .370. Davis, the Tulsa slugger, continues out in front in home run hitting with twenty, while Hemingway of Sioux City is the leading base stealer with thirty-three.

Benjamin Block has entered the celebrated Morvich, but it is unlikely the colt will start.

Others expected to face the starter include Firebrand, John Finn, Bunga Buck, Radio, Planet, Golden Shere, Minto II, Mainmast, Bygone Days and Guy. Others named as possible contenders are Mad Hatter, Grey Lag, Knobbie, Thunderclap, Captain Scott, Baby Grand, Spanish Maize, Extremator and Dr. Clark.

LOSS OF BEN PARKS NOT A FATAL BLOW FOR SOONER TENNIS

Harrington and O'Connell Remain To Uphold Fame of State University.

NORMAN, July 22.—(Special)—Although Ben K. Parks, the University of Oklahoma's veteran tennis captain, will not be in school next year, present indications point to as good a team as has ever represented O. U. Parks will not enter school in September, but has accepted a position as teacher in the public schools at Britton, Okla.

Ralph Rice, Chicago, who was ineligible this year on account of the one-year rule, will be eligible next year, George O'Connell, Chicago, and Bus Harrington, Oklahoma City, regulars of this year's team, will return. This team will be sent to Philadelphia to the national tennis tournament if it shows up well in the Missouri Valley games next spring.

Parks, O'Connell and Harrington represented the University of Oklahoma this year in the national tennis tournament at Philadelphia. This team made a good showing by defeating Texas, Washington and Harvard.

Plans are being made to go about two weeks before the tournament next year and get accustomed to the grass courts that are used.

Texas Star Coming. John Barr, Dallas, Texas, high school tennis champion, will enroll in the University of Oklahoma next fall, according to Parks, but will not be eligible for the varsity until the following year. Barr is also a member of the state doubles championship team in Texas.

Barr and Ted Drews, St. Louis champion, played an exhibition match against Watson Washburn member of the United States Davis cup team, and William Larned, seven times national champion. Barr and Drews won in five close sets and were awarded trophies as well as three new steel tennis rackets. Barr is only 18, and measures 6 feet two inches in height. He made a good showing at Indianapolis and Dayton this year and will materially strengthen the University of Oklahoma when he becomes eligible.

In 1924 Soonerland may take the national championship, with Parks back in school and Barr eligible to play on the varsity.

Strangler Lewis To Wrestle Warriors In Colorado Match

COLORADO SPRINGS, July 22.—Strangler Lewis, heavyweight wrestling champion of the world is a terror in the squared where his famous head-lock has taken the measure of the best wrestlers the world offers.

But Strangler Lewis is due for a new experience next month in Colorado Springs where he is spending the summer.

As a feature of the world, famous rodeo which will be staged August 15, 16 and 17, Strangler Lewis has contracted to throw seven Sioux warriors in 20 minutes—no mean job when one considers that the Sioux are real he-men with strength to burn.

The Strangler already is on the job here, and will remain during the summer. The Sioux are here too—100 of them including squaws, papooses and warriors—all from the famous Ogallala tribe.

FOR GOVERNOR

PONTOTOC COUNTY IS FOR WILSON BECAUSE:

He has been the firm friend of Pontotoc County and the East Central State Teachers College. He is the ablest man now aspiring to be governor. His democracy has never been questioned. His rugged honesty and unflinching courage are essential in directing the affairs of Oklahoma. His nomination will insure the success of the Democratic Ticket in November.

Fred F. Brydia Democrat For the Legislature

Believes and will work for laws favoring:

Collecting automobile tax at home and spending the money on any road or bridge located in this county, regardless of whether it is on the State Highway. We know better where we want our own money spent than the highway department located at Oklahoma City.

Make every country school district a voting precinct where the residents of that school district can vote and register; make the country school boards the judges and clerks of election; make the clerks of the country school boards the registrars for that district; make the voting precincts in incorporated towns the same as the school precincts; making the principals of the ward schools the registrars for that ward; this will take the election officers and registrars out of factional politics and make voting more easy, especially for the women.

Increase the growing prestige of the State Normal and Teachers College.

Make each legislative district consist of not less than five counties unless the population exceeds 200,000 people.

Co-operative system of marketing for farm products. The more money the farmer gets for his products the more prosperous the entire community will be.

Repeal Street Tax Bill—tax property, not people. Your vote and influence solicited.

PAINS SO BAD WOULD GO TO BED

Two Women Tell How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Stopped Their Suffering

Iron Mountain, Mich.—"I had terrible pains every month and at times had to go to bed on account of them. I saw your advertisement and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound with very good results. I can work all day long now at my sick time. You may use these facts as a testimonial and I am recommending the Vegetable Compound to my friends."—Mrs. A. H. GARLAND, 218 E. Brown St., Iron Mountain, Michigan.

Xenia, Ohio.—"Every month I had such pains in my back and lower part of my abdomen that I could not lie quietly in bed. I suffered for about five years that way and I was not regular either. I read an advertisement of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for other women, so I decided to try it. It surely has helped me a lot, as I have no pains now and am regular and feeling fine."—Mrs. MARY DALE, Route 7, Xenia, Ohio.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a medicine for women's ailments. It is especially adapted to relieve women. If you suffer as did Mrs. Garland or Mrs. Dale, you should give this well-known medicine a thorough trial.

FORD RETAIL SALES MAKE NEW RECORD

Company Reports Total Sales Have Reached 5,709 Machines a Day.

Retail Sales of Ford Cars, Trucks and Tractors established a new high record during June, when according to a statement issued from the Ford Factory at Detroit, an average of 5,709 machines were sold daily.

Ford Sales have been showing a constant increase each month this year; June being the highest in the history of the Company with a total of 148,439 Cars, Trucks and Tractors. Of this number, 6,054 were sold by the Ford Company of Canada and 9,435 by the various European Ford Companies and South American branch, reaching purchasers in practically every civilized country in the world.

With the closing of business for June, Ford records disclosed the fact that total sales for the first six months of 1922 were well over the half million mark, the exact figures being 652,261. This is also a new high record as it is considerably in advance of any previous half year period.

July Ford sales are expected to equal, and probably eclipse June. The estimated output of Cars, Trucks and Tractors has been placed at 151,767, although dealers have requisitioned more than 200,000.

Ford officials state that every attempt has been made to supply their dealers with sufficient cars to fill their orders, but that for the past three months, prompt deliveries have been impossible with some of the types. The demand for Ford enclosed cars has been especially hard to meet, due to the over-increasing popularity of the Coupe and Sedan for all year around use.

A reflection of general business conditions is seen in the record of Ford Truck sales, which show an increase of eighty-four percent over last year. Merchants and farmers alike have come to recognize the utility of the motor truck in cutting transportation costs and speeding up deliveries, and the fact that they are buying nearly twice as many now as a year ago clearly points to better business conditions.

At the present time, Ford is employing 75,000 men in Detroit.

First Baptist Church

Our Sunday school begins tomorrow at 9:45. Last Sunday there were 504 present. We are delighted over the fact that we are holding up above 500 thus far and hope that we may continue to stay above that number. The Men's Bible class will meet as usual at the McSwain theatre at 9:30. They had 97 present last Sunday. They confidently believe they will have 125 present tomorrow for the reason that they have been working this week.

There will be no services at the church at the morning hour on account of the commencement sermon at the College. The pastor of the First Baptist church will deliver the sermon and his subject will be, "The Knowledge Supreme."

I understand the other churches of the city will have no services at that hour but will all attend the services at the college.

The B. Y. P. U.'s will meet at 7:15 for their progress. They are all having splendid attendance and all the young people are urged to be present.

The pastor has cancelled the meeting at Roff and will be in his pulpit tomorrow evening as usual.

The sermon will be evangelistic and the public is cordially invited to be present. We are always exceedingly desirous of leading unsaved people to Christ, and urge the unsaved to come and be with us.—Clyde Calhoun Morris, pastor.

Attention Voters

The Byng and Francis Bridges cost Pontotoc and Seminole counties and Townships of Francis and Allen the total sum of $50,000.00.

The State Highway Department over the protest of the county commissioners, who wanted a high water bridge adopted the low water bridge plans, also the low water bridge at Francis. They were told it was low water bridges or none.

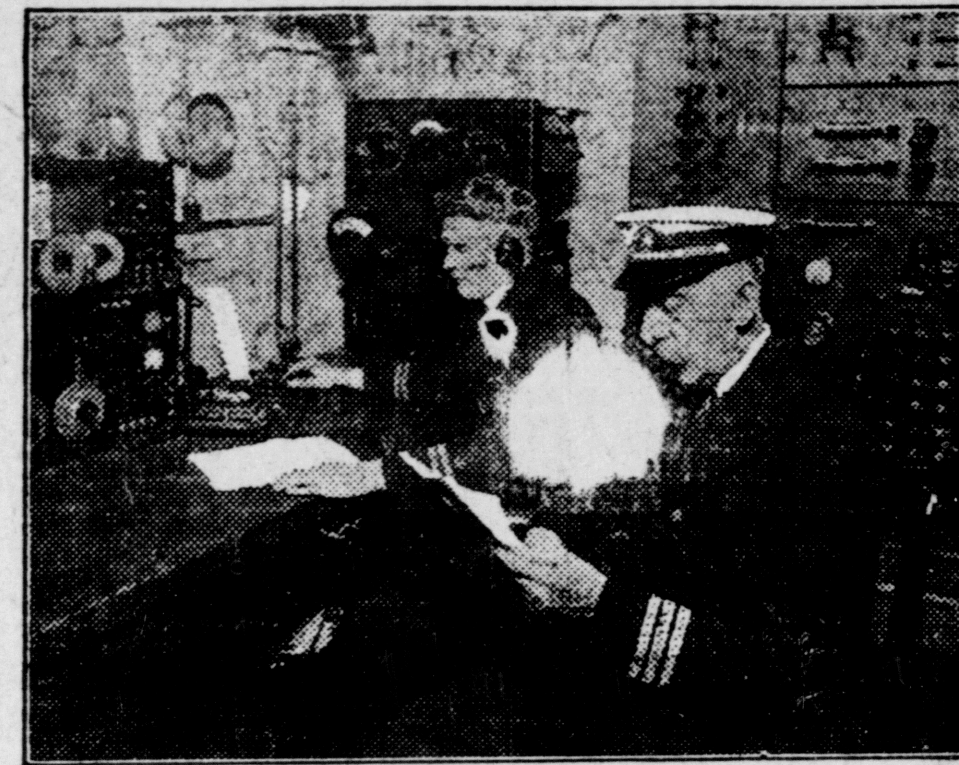

The State through its engineers is responsible for these worthless bridges and if I become State Senator, I feel sure I can secure thru legislation a return of this money to the respective counties and townships.

Respectfully,
WILLIAM H. EBEY

Duties of Ship Surgeons Increased Because of Wireless-Calls for Aid

Ship Surgeon giving advice by wireless

New York. As a result of the perfection of wireless communication at sea the work of the ship surgeons has been greatly enhanced. There was a time, not so long ago, when the duties of the surgeon were confined to the care of the passengers and crew on the vessel of which he was physician. Nowadays, however, the surgeon's work has been almost doubled by the calls for aid from passing ships. Recently a survey of the medical situation in the vessels of its fleet was made by the United States Lines and many interesting stories were brought to light.

Within the last few months, investigation shows, the surgeons of the United States Lines vessels have been called upon to prescribe for a score or more cases which were brought to them through the medium of wireless. Now that the wireless telephone has passed the experimental stage, demonstrations having been successfully carried on for a number of weeks aboard the Steamship America, it is expected that the ship surgeons will be called upon more extensively than heretofore.

It is nothing uncommon for the ship surgeon to be aroused in the middle of the night to prescribe for a sick sailor aboard a vessel several hundred miles distant. The radio calls for assistance usually come from freight ships, which do not carry surgeons and on which the captain with the aid of a limited medicine chest acts as physician to his crew.

On his recent arrival in New York Dr. R. H. Bolling, surgeon on the steamship President Roosevelt, reported having treated twelve members of a freighter's crew by wireless. The ship surgeon was aroused in the middle of the night by a radio requesting aid for twelve sailors who were in great agony. Dr. Bolling called for detailed histories of the cases and after a thorough analysis of the information sent him determined that the luckless twelve were victims of ptomaine poisoning. The surgeon prescribed heroic treatment for the twelve and a day later received a message of thanks from the freighter's captain informing him that the ptomaine sufferers were recovering.

Dr. W. S. Ford of the steamship President Garfield has the distinction of being the first surgeon on record to have aided and abetted the stork by wireless. On a trip from Europe Dr. Ford received a message from the captain of a freighter reading: "Have wife on board. Expect arrival of stork together with the pickles until they become bright and clear (about 10 minutes), cool quickly in a covered pan, and when cold arrange the cucumbers attractively in jars and pour over them the hot strained spiced syrup."

Plain Cucumber Pickles
After washing the brine from the cured cucumbers, allow them to stand in fresh, cold water for 3 hours. Drain and cover with a weak solution of vinegar and allow them to stand for two or three hours. Put in kettle—
1 qt. vinegar
3 c. whole black pepper
1 or 2 pods red pepper
1 lb. brown sugar
2 T. cloves
1 T. mace

Boil for five minutes and pour over the cucumbers, which have been drained from the first vinegar. This amount is for 1 gallon of pickles. Pack into jars, cover with the spiced vinegar, and process to seal airtight.

Citron of Melon or Pumpkin
Full grown but not ripe fruit is used; pare and cut in very large pieces, pour over it vinegar and let stand 24 hours, after which it is rinsed in water. Boil until tender and clear in thick syrup. After 24 hours drain off in syrup, boil again until it is thick, then pour over the fruit, let stand 8 to 14 days, stir it once in awhile. If the syrup becomes thin boil it again and pour over the fruit. When the fruit is penetrated by the syrup put on a strainer and let drain, dry. Cantaloupes or pumpkins can be used for this.

Melon Pickles—Cantaloupes or Watermelons
Moisten 5 lbs. of sugar with 1 cup vinegar and a little water, let boil until clear, take pieces of clean washed and pared half ripe muskmelon or watermelon and drop them into the boiling syrup; let them boil until clear. Take up the pieces and place them on a dish. Drop other pieces (as many as there is room for at a time) into the syrup and boil them. At last boil syrup until it is thick. Lay the boiled pieces of melon into stone jar and pour the boiling syrup over them. Cover and let stand for about one week, at the end of which time, put the melon and syrup over the fire and let boil

Feeding Meat to Fowls
Poultry need a certain amount of meat scraps or fresh cut bone in their ration regularly. However, too much of such food, either ground or fresh, is injurious in that it is too rich and concentrated, perhaps leading to indigestion or causing disease.

If dried ground meat is used, a small amount of it may be fed every day or two; but if fresh butcher's meat is given, two or three times a week is often enough. One pound of chopped fresh meat or green cut bone is about the proper quantity for fifteen hens. Many folk successfully follow the rule of feeding green cut bone at the rate of one ounce per fowl every other day.—Farm Life.

Spiced Sweet Pickles

If a sweet pickle is desired, make a syrup of 6 cups of vinegar solution and 1½ pounds of sugar and cook together with spices for 15 minutes, pour over the cucumbers, and allow to cool over night. Next morning drain the spiced syrup for the cucumbers, boil for 10 minutes, and again pour over the cucumbers, let stand for 2 hours, then boil to or excessive innervation of the eye muscles depletes the nerve centers. It also gives rise to brain irritation of various degrees. Dispositions are altered by it, character is forcibly changed; mental faculties are impelled into channels of work that are anomalous.

These conditions may force a man to appear to the world an entirely different character from what he otherwise would have been. So, in time these disturbing conditions can be corrected, we may expect to see favorable changes in the physical, mental and moral parts of the individual.
